I am a team-player and I could work with various teams in all the positions I held, and the assignments I took. I like to work with people from different cultural and linguistic backgrounds. I also love to travel and meet people from all walks of life. I travelled extensively within the US and I regularly travel between Libya and Tunisia as well as extensive travels within Libya. I visited other countries in the region as well. Those experiences enriched my life experiences and the way I feel and see cultures, which increases my fascination about the beauty of cultures and languages.
